

The Future of AeroSpace:
Where the World meets in Sacheon, Gyeongnam

You are cordially invited to the Global AeroSpace Symposium.

Dear Esteemed Guests,

We are honored to invite you to the 2025 Global AeroSpace Symposium, held in Sacheon, the rising aerospace capital of South Korea, and jointly hosted by Gyeongsangnam-do Province, Sacheon City, Gyeongsang National University, and Gyeongnam Technopark.

This symposium will bring together leading experts and professionals in the aerospace industry to share insights on emerging technological trends and policies, and to discuss Korea's vision for the future of aerospace. One of the key highlights will be the opportunity to hear directly from leading aerospace cities like Toulouse, France, about their success strategies and development models.

As a global university, Gyeongsang National University is fully committed to advancing the regional aerospace industry, a vital engine of innovation and growth. We sincerely hope you will join us, lend your wisdom and support, and be part of Korea's bold journey toward becoming a global aerospace powerhouse.

Thank you.

President of Gyeongsang National University Min-ho Kwon
